

SUPER LAUNDRY ACQUIRES LAUNDRY TEK

Nation's Largest Commercial Laundry Equipment Distributor Expands

Plainview, NY - June 1, 2010 – Super Laundry Equipment Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of Coinmach Service Corp., today announces its acquisition of Laundry Tek Services Corp., a commercial laundry distributor serving eastern Pennsylvania. With this acquisition, Super Laundry enhances its position as the largest commercial laundry equipment distributor in the U.S. providing commercial laundry equipment and maintenance service throughout eight states.

The expansion into the eastern Pennsylvania market links Super Laundry's Midwest operations to its northeast operations and provides tremendous growth potential as eastern Pennsylvania is the fourth largest market in the U.S. Super Laundry is dedicated to providing unmatched products and services to on-premises laundry facilities such as hotels, nursing homes, hospitals, correctional facilities, fire departments and industrial laundries.

About Coinmach

Coinmach, through its operating subsidiaries, is a leading supplier of outsourced laundry equipment services for multi-family housing properties in North America. Coinmach's core business involves leasing laundry rooms from building owners and property management companies, installing and servicing laundry equipment and collecting revenues generated from laundry machines.
